1.1 PROGRAM AIMS

The Master of Science in Master of Business Administration program aims to train specialists who are able to create a strategic mindset that ensures the survival and the development of companies, based on their knowledge in all relevant areas of business. Students are familiar with the main trends of the international economy, and they are capable of managing human resources and organizations or companies in general. Another purpose is to accelerate careers, combined by the appropriate theoretical background, and to provide the necessary knowledge to follow master studies with doctoral studies.

“At Corvinus, the extremely diverse student body combined with the knowledgeable and internationally respected professors creates a truly global atmosphere and unique class experience.”
Thomas (USA), full-time MBA class of 2011

“Located in the very heart of Europe, highly recognized Corvinus not only offers exceptional academic knowledge, but also a good understanding of cultural differences and their impact on the business world.”
Lilla (Hungary), full-time MBA class of 2011

“The international dimensions of Corvinus allowed me develop a unique perspective on the current business decisions of the world. The strength of the Corvinus MBA lies within its diverse student body.”
Carlos (Mexico), full-time MBA graduate 2010

1.2 PROGRAM OUTCOMES

Graduates of this program are qualified: to plan, organize, manage, and lead the operations of the organizations, both in the business and in the public sector, at domestic and international levels; to manage business processes, conduct analysis, prepare reports, and work as an individual and as a team member; to support decisions on recognizing and solving business problems, and gather and analyze the necessary information; to raise and answer strategic questions.

1.3 PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The four semesters of the program cover all the functional areas of management. Most of the curriculum builds on required core courses, with some further elective courses addressing specific topics of leadership and management.
Following the main components of the curriculum, the graduates of the program should be able to:

- Think about business and research at a master level (Quantitative Methods, Business Economics, Business Law)
- Coach their people and manage themselves (Management and Organization, Human Resource Management)
- Understand the business environment they operate in (Comparative Economic Policy, Corporate Sustainability)
- Finance their business and measure the results (Corporate Finance, Understanding Financial Statements, Management Accounting)
- Optimize their internal processes (Management of Information Resources, Process Management and IT, Supply Chain and Operations Management)
- Manage the market (Marketing Management, International and Intercultural Marketing)
- Find the best strategy to respond to market and consumer needs (Strategic Thinking, Strategy Tools)

1.4 PROGRAM STRUCTURE

4 academic semesters
Academic credits altogether: 120

1.5 ADMISSION PROCESS AND ENTRY CRITERIA
Detailed information about the admission could be found on the following link:

1.6 COURSE DESCRIPTIONS
Please visit our website for up-to-date details on courses:
   http://corvinus-mba.hu
2.1 ATTENDANCE

Visiting the lectures is essential not only for you, but also for your fellow students with whom you will work closely. At the beginning of each course, you are requested to sign an attendance register. Please kindly note that if your overall attendance is below the required 75%, the instructor of the course will refuse to evaluate your performance.

2.2 HOMEWORK

You will have to comprehend and compose a substantial volume of material, all in English. From time to time you will have to present homework to your professors. According to the course syllabus, or upon the request of your instructor, homework can be submitted in paper form, or via e-mail to the professor, or by uploading your assignment to the Moodle e-learning system. Submission deadlines are strict. In addition, the homework should meet the scientific standards of citation and documentation. In your homework, the source of information should be referred to by giving the name of the author(s) from whom the quotation is made and the date(s) when the work(s) referred to were published. Internet references should be given as well. Be sure to indicate the website address and the date of downloading.

2.3 COURSE REQUIREMENTS

At the beginning of each course you will receive a course syllabus. Apart from a brief description of the subjects, the weekly allocation of materials and the reading list, it also specifies the requirements for completing the given course. You are requested to read all course syllabuses thoroughly.

Most of the courses have a balanced performance measurement system with different weights for class participation, group presentations, mid-term or final exam etc. Details, including the grading scale may vary with each course. The presentation of cases made by teams is an important part of your studies, and is evaluated by the teachers. Midterm performance are counted into your final semester grades, so your active contribution to teamwork influences not only your results, but those of your fellow students’ as well.

Most subjects require an examination, which can be oral or written, “open-book” or, more often, “closed-book”. In certain cases, you may simply get a grade on the basis of your midterm performance. Exams will be taken place in the exam periods. If you fail the exam, you can sign up to a make-up exam.
2.4 ABSOLUTORY

Having fulfilled your studies, you will get an absolutory, a certificate of your academic record proving that you have completed your tasks and have complied all the necessary requirements to submit your thesis and to take your final exam.

2.5 MASTER THESIS

In the fourth semester of the program you should prepare your thesis work. You will be provided with a detailed thesis guide before you start to work on the thesis. It is highly recommended to choose a topic, ask for a thesis supervisor, and to outline your ideas early in the third semester.

2.6 FINAL EXAM – DEFENSE OF THE THESIS

The final exam is an oral exam that consists of two parts. A Final Examination Committee that has three members will ask you a comprehensive question regarding your studies (Complex Examination). It is followed by the “Thesis defense” where you give a 15-minute-long presentation, and you are required to answer the committee’s questions. Your performance will be evaluated on the basis of the two reviews of your thesis and the committee’s decision.

2.7 GRADUATION

The final grade is calculated using the average of the courses (1x), the grade of the comprehensive exam (1x), and the grade of the thesis defense (2x).

MBA students will be awarded a Master’s degree and the professional qualification of Master of Business Administration.
3. ABOUT CORVINUS MBA CENTER

3.1 CORVINUS UNIVERSITY OF BUDAPEST

Corvinus University of Budapest is committed to providing the highest quality of education in Hungary and the region. This commitment to excellence is reflected by many of our alumni (10 Ministers of Finance, 7 Ministers of Economy, 4 Governors of the Hungarian National Bank, the presidents of the State Audit Office, several CEOs and Chairmen of major Hungarian companies). Corvinus Business School is number one in Hungary in the field of scientific research on business, and business education. The famous cultural heritage main building of Corvinus University of Budapest is located right in the city center on the bank of Europe’s longest river, Danube.

3.2 CORVINUS MBA CENTER

As a flagship department of the Corvinus Business School of the Corvinus University of Budapest, Corvinus MBA Center (CMC) is one of the top institutions offering MBA, Executive MBA, in-house and international programs. Our commitment to quality of education is reflected in our external relationships with practicing managers. Corvinus MBA Center is supervised by a Curatorium consisting of the business leaders from cutting-edge Hungarian and multinational corporations. Corvinus MBA Center enjoys the access to the superior 21st century MBA classrooms equipped with high-level facilities in the historical building of Corvinus University.

3.3 OTHER PROGRAMS PROVIDED BY CMC

CMC programs utilize an integrated curriculum that reflects the latest business challenges in the field of leadership, performance management, marketing, IT, corporate sustainability, and strategy. Small classroom sizes and carefully selected student body enable a proactive teaching methodology with case studies, class discussions, and teamwork with learning from peers. CMC offers MBA programs, customized (in-house) programs for companies, and residency modules for international business schools.
EXECUTIVE MBA (PART-TIME)
The Executive MBA (EMBA) is a part-time program designed for students with substantial work experience (min. 5 years). Classes are scheduled for six weekends (Friday afternoons and Saturdays plus an intensive week per semester) which allows our students to continue their work and immediately apply what they learn during the Corvinus MBA to their jobs. Special emphasis is placed on skills, personal mentoring and networking in this program – reflecting the fact that most of our EMBA students already work in managerial positions. The four semesters of the program offer exclusive services such as the option to participate in an international week at a partner university abroad (USA, Germany), and regular guest lectures and special events from top executives.

IN-HOUSE PROGRAMS
Successful companies and organizations are investing in the further education of their talents. CMC offers an ideal mix of internal company trainings. The In-House programs are customized responses to the direct needs of a company. Students are from the same company and are familiar with the latest challenges of their industry. Tailor-made programs help them to prepare for higher level management positions by providing them with the latest management concepts, leadership skills, and the “big picture”, focusing on those topics that are relevant at their company.

RESIDENCY MODULES (INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS)
Corvinus MBA Center is proud to cooperate with top business schools. We understand and respond to the needs of the different MBA groups (Executive, Global, etc.) of top business schools and provide jointly agreed and customized programs for them. Between 2008 and 2015, Corvinus MBA Center hosted more than 30 groups and delivered more than 180 lectures and company visits for more than 600 students. Corvinus residency modules, usually one-week-long programs, enhance the international partnerships of Corvinus University of Budapest.
