

Dear Students,

due to the national emergency because of the COVID-19 pandemic Corvinus University will introduce online education from the 23rd of March! Information on the modified academic schedule has been posted already and in this letter, we would like to provide information on the latest settlements.

Online education

Our aim is to transfer the education to platforms that support effective teaching and enable cooperation and teamwork. The diversity and large number of courses, there are 1337 subjects and the 3051 courses that need to be moved to online platforms, require standardized solutions. The online education will be unified, therefore the MOODLE and MICROSOFT TEAMS platforms will be used for all courses. Even though there are some other platforms that could be effectively used for some of the courses, we chose to stick to these two platforms, because they can be reached and used easily by both teachers and students.

The newly integrated system enables the sharing of written and video materials, as well as assigning tasks and handing in assignments (MOODLE). Additionally, there will a possibility to plan or have spontaneous video conferences on the TEAMS.

The new integrated system launches on the 23rd of March!

Both the MOODLE and TEAMS solutions are accessible, testable, learnable even now. The TEAMS platform can be accessed on www.office.com, to which you can log in with your university email address and the corresponding password. You can also download the platform to your own computer from the site, but it can also be used in the browser as well.

The University will create a TEAMS group for each and every course, bearing the same structure and support. The platform for all courses of the University will be this TEAMS group besides MOODLE. The user interface of these two solutions will be accessible in an integrated form, just with one click. Our aim was to develop an automated solution which is easily manageable by both students and teachers, as well as being flexible.

The new types of methodology for different courses will be available on the MOODLE from next Monday. We ask everyone to read the information site of the courses through again, after they have been uploaded.

The University will create an interface for information about distance learning, on which you can access all important information on <http://www.uni.corvinus.hu>. During the following period, we will send you regular updates on all main pieces of information and news.

Internship

Many students are doing their internship as of this semester. We kindly ask you to indicate any problems you should have with the internship on student.office@uni-corvinus.hu. We will inform you of all news regarding the internships in the next letter.

Information about the schedule for students studying in a system of even and odd weeks

Several courses run in a system of even (week A) and odd (week B) week schedule. Concerning these courses, the education will resume in the form of distance learning after the spring break, from the 23rd of March, starting with odd (week B) week schedules.

Language courses

Language courses will continue in an interactive, online format. All information regarding the language courses is accessible on the MOODLE.

Use of University student email addresses

We would like to inform you that for all administrative tasks and for using the MOODLE system, you should use your “...@stud.uni-corvinus.hu” email address. For this, please double check your address given in the Neptun system.
