

Radboud Summer School

20 June - 15 July and 8 - 19 August, 2022

Dear Corvinus University of Budapest,

We would like to invite your students, researchers, and academic staff to take part in our summer school in 2022. This summer promises to be an extra special one, with a record number of 81 courses on offer! The 2022 programme will be safe, flexible, and conform the Covid-19 regulations.

Our academic courses will inspire your students and researchers, enable them to explore new scientific areas, develop their skills and expand their international network.

We believe that our summer courses will complement your university's curriculum perfectly. Since Corvinus University of Budapest is one of our valued partner universities, we offer your students 25% discount on the course fee if they apply before the 1st of April 2022.

Radboud Summer School is organized by Radboud University, one of the leading academic centers of excellence in the Netherlands. Last summer over 500 participants joined us in our first ever online Summer School, and previously over 850 participants from 75 countries joined us during our on campus edition. Both the city of Nijmegen and our university have an open and friendly atmosphere where students and staff feel safe and at home.

Please forward this invitation to everyone you think might be interested in an unforgettable summer.

Kind regards,
Wessel Meijer

Interim Director Radboud Summer School
