4. What is the actual state of the accreditation of the Corvinus?

Corvinus received initial AACSB accreditation in 2022 and a five-year AMBA re-accreditation in 2023. The university did not renew its EQUIS accreditation in 2021. At that time, the organisational renewal process just began, and despite the university's significant progress, the peer-review team found it challenging to evaluate the results. They noted that during the process of a deep change (changes in governance, organisational parameters, introduction of new policies and new processes, etc.), the plans seemed to overshadow the results, and a longer time was needed for the appraisal of these essential changes. Since then, Corvinus has made considerable improvements in the points that they criticised (most notably, internationalisation) and has worked together with advisors to prepare to get EQUIS accreditation again.

3. The call asks for a declaration of integrity. Is that just a self-made declaration or an official document?

The declaration of integrity is the applicant's own declaration about the lack of any criminal record.

2. May any sensitive documents be submitted to support the assessment of the applicants?

A non-disclosure declaration on behalf of the Board of Trustees will be signed if any sensitive document can be submitted by the applicants.

1. Are the strategic development documents available for the applicants?

The Development Plan 2024-27 and other relevant documents are available in English on the links of „strategic documents” and „renewal program”.
