

The Corvinus University of Budapest

pursuant to the Regulation on Student Fees and Benefits (hereinafter: RSFB) constituting Part 4 and the Regulation on Study Abroad (hereinafter: RSA) constituting Part 9 of the Student Requirements announces a call for applications for the 2nd (spring) semester of the 2025/2026 academic year

within the framework of general, long-term study mobility for participation in a study abroad programme and
for a scholarship to support participation in a study abroad programme

The aim of the call for applications is to attract as many students as possible with excellent academic performances, who are able to perform well at the partner universities of the Corvinus University of Budapest (hereinafter: University), to participate in mobility programmes for study purposes most suitable for them, thus broadening their horizons, deepening their professional knowledge and building international contacts with their fellow students abroad, which will also foster their future professional lives.

1. The call for applications applies to

- 1.1. participation in a long-term study mobility programme run by the University, such as:
 - 1.1.1.1. the Pannónia Scholarship Programme and
 - 1.1.2. other programmes based on inter-institutional cooperation agreements, other than the Pannónia Scholarship Programme:
 - 1.1.2.1. CEMS;
 - 1.1.2.2. CEEPUS Scholarship Programme;
 - 1.1.3. other programmes based on inter-institutional cooperation agreements not covered by points 1.1.1 and 1.1.2, and
- 1.2. to receive financial support (scholarship) for the participation opportunity applied for, regardless of whether the University provides the financial resources through a grant from the Pannónia scholarship programme, funds provided by the Maintainer or other own income.

2. Legal and regulatory background to the call

The general rules for participation in mobility programmes are set out in the RSA within the University, and, for students attending doctoral programmes, in the Doctoral (PhD) Regulation and the operating rules of the relevant doctoral schools.

In addition to the above, the following non-university regulations and other rules apply to the individual programmes:

- 2.1. For the Pannónia Scholarship Programme, the Programme Implementation Guide and the Grant Agreement between Corvinus University of Budapest and Tempus Közalapítvány (Tempus Public Foundation).

- 2.2. Other programmes based on inter-institutional cooperation agreements (bilateral or multilateral contracts) other than the Pannónia scholarship programme:
- 2.2.1. In the case of CEMS, the rules of participation are defined by the common requirements set by the CEMS Association on the <https://cems.org/> website and the application criteria on the Corvinus website (more information: CEMS programme)
- 2.2.2. For the CEEPUS programme, the rules of using and accounting the CEEPUS support, and the Grant Award Document between the Corvinus University of Budapest and Tempus Közalapítvány (Tempus Public Foundation).
- 2.3. In the case of other programmes based on inter-institutional cooperation agreements (bilateral or multilateral contract) other than those referred to in point 1.1.3, the cooperation agreements concluded by the universities.

The rules for credit recognition are set out in the Study and Examination Regulations (SER), and in the case of doctoral students, in the Doctoral (PhD) Regulation and the rules of operation of the relevant doctoral school.

3. Criteria for submitting the application and granting the scholarship

- 3.1. Applications may be submitted by students attending Bachelor programmes, two-cycle or single-cycle Master programmes or Doctoral programmes at the University, regardless of the mode of study, who meet the following conditions:
- 3.1.1. study in the programme affected by the call for applications, have a cumulative average academic performance of 3.00 or above at the end of the 1st (autumn) semester of the 2024/2025 academic year;
- 3.1.2. at the time of submitting their application, have at least a B2 complex language examination in the language of the intended studies, and submit the relevant certificate as an annex to their application;
- 3.1.3. if the selected partner university expects a higher level of language proficiency than the level specified in point 3.1.2, a valid document certifying this must be attached to the application;
- 3.1.4. do not benefit from a Stipendium Hungaricum or Diaspora Scholarship;
- 3.1.5. students attending Bachelor or two-cycle or single-cycle Master programmes declare that at the time of starting their studies abroad, they still have to earn least 21 credits to obtain the absolutorium, it being understood that the 21 credits may not include the mandatory practice period and the thesis seminar, while for PhD students the number of credits awarded by the receiving institution abroad may not exceed the maximum number of credits specified in the Doctoral (PhD) Regulation and the rules of operation of the relevant doctoral school.
- 3.2. Other conditions of submitting the application and participating in the programme:
- 3.2.1. To be eligible for the long-term mobility programme for study purposes, students must have at least one (1) semester completed at the University at the start of the mobility.
- 3.2.2. In their applications, students may only select institutions that offer topic

- areas related to the programme affected by the application (see Annex 4 for the topic areas that may be selected for individual programmes).
- 3.2.3. Students attending more than one programme at the same time must specify in their application, from which programme they are applying for the mobility programme, and only their academic performance in relation to that programme selected that way will be taken into account in the assessment of their application, and they may select partner institutions related to this field of study only in their application.
- 3.2.4. CEMS programme institutions can be selected by students, who
- 3.2.4.1. are attending the Management and Leadership Master programme in English, or
- 3.2.4.2. have submitted their applications for the CEMS student positions announced by the CEMS office on 11-22 November 2024.
- 3.2.5. In the course of study mobility only the following activities carried out abroad may be accepted: completion of full-time, daytime studies in a Bachelor, two-cycle or single-cycle Master or doctoral programme leading to a recognised diploma or degree. Study mobility may be for compulsory, compulsory elective and elective subjects, but mobility programmes are not available for the sole purpose of preparing a thesis, including the completion of a thesis seminar, or for the completion of criterion subjects.
- 3.2.6. In their applications, applicants must establish a preference ranking of minimum one and maximum six institutions from among those they have chosen, indicating the topic area of the programme and the expected duration of the trip (duration of study). The order of preference and the selected period of studies cannot be revised after the first step of the application process.
- 3.2.7. Before submitting their applications, applicants must make sure that the institution they wish to apply to does not have any requirements that would prevent them from studying abroad (e.g. language examination requirements that exceed the minimum criteria, i.e. the complex B2 language examination).
- 3.2.8. It is the responsibility of the applying student to check the subjects offered by the selected universities for the period applied for and the language of instruction before submitting the application. If the subjects offered for the mobility semester are not available during the application period, information can be collected based on the subjects offered in previous semesters.
- 3.2.9. It is the student's responsibility to check the acceptance of subjects offered by the partner universities before submitting the application, in view of the fact that the subjects completed at the partner institution must be accepted at the University.
- 3.2.10. If the applicant requests that other activities included in the evaluation criteria be taken into account in his/her application, he/she must attach the relevant certificates signed by the persons specified in the RSFB, as set out in the table in Annex 1. Only documents in pdf format can be attached to the application.
- 3.2.11. If the applicant attends a CEMS programme and this application is for a semester to be completed under this programme at the partner university abroad, and he/she has already been admitted to the CEMS programme before the deadline for the submission of applications, he/she must attach to his/her application a document certifying his/her admission to the CEMS programme.

- 3.2.12. If a student's application for admission to a CEMS programme is not accepted by the closing date of this application and the student indicated in his/her application a partner institution/ partner institutions which is/are specifically available only to students attending CEMS programmes, these institutions will be disregarded in the assessment.
- 3.3. In addition to the above, there are special rules for students attending PhD programmes:
- 3.3.1. Students participating in a PhD programme may only apply to a partner university from which they have an official letter of acceptance or a clear written confirmation of their acceptance, formulated and documented by the collaborating partner (the lecturer or researcher who is affiliated to the institution).
- 3.3.2. They must attach to their applications a signed detailed research plan and work plan with the requirements set out in Annex 3 to this call for applications.

4. Method and deadline of submitting applications

The application must be submitted in the Neptun Unified Education Administration System as follows:

- 4.1. Students can submit their applications for the study abroad programme and for the scholarship supporting their study abroad in Neptun/Administration/Applications. Name of the request: E404-Application for study abroad, long-term mobility - Submission of a supplementary application
- 4.2. In the request, students indicate all the institutions, the topic areas belonging to the institutions and the expected start date and duration of the studies for which they wish to apply (order of preference). A maximum of 6 institutions can be selected for this call for applications. Students then submit their application for a study abroad programme and study abroad scholarship.
- The above activity (selection and prioritisation of institutions and submission of the application) constitutes the submission of an application according to this call for applications.
- 4.3. The application period is from 10:00 am 28 May 2025 (Wednesday) – until 03:00 pm 11 June 2025 (Wednesday).
- 4.4. The above deadline is time-barred, late or incomplete applications will not be taken into account in the assessment. There is no room for correcting deficiencies or for submitting applications for justification.

5. Evaluation of applications

- 5.1. Applications will be rejected without examining the merits:
- 5.1.1. if the student is not eligible to submit application under the criteria set out in point 3;
- 5.1.2. if the student did not attach the mandatory document indicated as a condition for the submission of the application, or did not attach it in accordance with

- the content or form of the call for applications. It is the student's responsibility to check that the uploaded document is not damaged and can be opened;
- 5.1.3. if the student has not completed one of the activities under point 4 (selection of institutions and definition of the order of preference and submission of the application).
- 5.2. If the applicant does not provide the required certification for an activity specified in the call for applications, or does not provide it in accordance with the content or form specified in the call for applications, or if it is technically incorrect (e.g. the file cannot be opened), the given activity will not be evaluated, but the other elements of the application - if they are certified in accordance with the rules of the call for applications - will be evaluated.
- 5.3. Submitted applications will be assessed on the basis of the criteria set out in this section and in Annex 1 for students attending Bachelor programmes and two-cycle and single-cycle Master programmes:
- 5.4. For PhD students, the assessment will follow the rules set out in Annex 2.
- 5.5. Applicants who provide false or untrue information or make false or untrue declarations during the application procedure will be disqualified.

6. Ranking of applications

- 6.1. The currently available resources are allocated according to the following principles:
- 6.1.1. Students participating in CEMS programmes have priority over other students, up to the global amount available.
- 6.1.2. Following the students specified in the previous point, students travelling to university partners participating in the current Pannónia Scholarship Programme will have priority over students travelling to other bilateral partners not eligible for financing from Pannónia Scholarship funds.
- 6.1.3. The remaining amount will be awarded to students based on their number of points collected in this call for applications, up to the global amount available.
- 6.1.4. In the case of identical number of points, students with better academic performances (cumulative adjusted credit index) will have priority.
- 6.2. In the case of withdrawal, the grant will be awarded to the next student in the order of priority (e.g. in the case of withdrawal from a place in Germany, the next applicant with the highest number of points travelling to Germany).
- 6.2.1. Taking into account the aggregated number of points, the preference order indicated by applicants and the rules of ranking, the decision on the places of study abroad and the funding opportunities is taken by the Head of the International Mobility Programmes, who will issue his/her decision in a resolution.
- 6.2.2. The applicant must accept the higher education institution awarded on the basis of his/her number of points and preference list.

WARNING! Applicants should be aware that the Pannónia Scholarship Programme and other available scholarships cover only part of the actual expenses incurred, the difference must be covered by the student.

7. Legal remedy

- 7.1. Applicants have the right to appeal against the decision of the Head of the International Mobility Programmes within 15 days from the date of notification or, failing that, from the date of learning about the decision, in accordance with Sections 57-58 of Act CCIV of 2011 on National Higher Education. Legal remedy requests must be submitted through Neptun, addressed to the Student Appeals Committee.
- 7.2. The Student Appeals Committee will make a decision about the request for legal remedy in a procedure conducted according to the Procedure for the Assessment of First Instance Applications and Legal Remedy Requests in Relation to Student Status (hereinafter: SSP).
- 7.3. The time limit for administration is thirty (30) days, which does not include the periods specified in subsection 15 (3) of the SSP, especially the period in which administration at university level is suspended (i.e. the period of university shutdown).

8. Extension of the mobility period, multiple participation in mobility programme

Study opportunities awarded under this call for the 2025/2026 spring semester cannot be extended to the 2026/2027 autumn semester.

Budapest, 21 May 2025

Dr. Zita Anikó Kelemen
Head of International Mobility
Programmes
