Preparatory Programme for International Participants

Valid: for students starting in the 2026/2027 academic year

General information:

Title of the programme in Hungarian: BCE elkészítő képzés külföldieknek

Title of the programme in English: Preparatory Programme for International Participants

Supervisor: Ágota Dobos

Training location: in Budapest

Working hours: full-time

Training language: english

Training objectives:

The aim of the training is to prepare students for university studies and to help them meet the admission requirements in English and, for programs requiring it, in Mathematics as well. During the program, students will become familiar with the structure of university education and the conditions for admission to various study programs. They will learn the behavioral norms, adaptation techniques, and opportunities expected within an international university community, thereby facilitating the integration of students from different countries into the Hungarian higher education system. Our goal is to promote intercultural awareness and prepare students to face intercultural challenges.

Attained professional competences:

The graduates have

a) knowledge:

- Graduates possess the English language proficiency required to successfully complete the internal B2-level exam or an equivalent international language exam at the same level, such as achieving a score of at least 6.0 on the IELTS. Those intending to pursue studies at the master's level reach an IELTS score of 6.5. In addition to general English training, they acquire knowledge in academic and economic English.
- If the economics module is chosen, students gain subject-specific mathematical knowledge necessary to pass the entrance test, along with familiarity in using English-language terminology.
- Students who opt for the social sciences module or plan to apply for a Master's program become well-versed in the theoretical and current topics typically addressed during professional interviews.

b) skills:

- Graduates confidently and correctly use a wide range of relevant vocabulary and grammar in both spoken and written English, especially in academic contexts.
- Those following the economics module are capable of solving mathematical and logical problems appropriate to their level and applying the relevant English terminology with confidence.
- Students preparing for social science studies or a Master's program acquire the knowledge required for admission and can effectively articulate this knowledge during interviews, while also demonstrating awareness of current international issues.

c) attitudes:

- Graduates show openness toward acquiring new knowledge, methods, and intercultural values. Their behavior supports effective teamwork, and they are flexible in adapting to the teaching methods used in higher education.

d) autonomy and responsibilities:

- Graduates set both short- and long-term learning goals that support the fulfillment of admission requirements. Throughout the academic year, they demonstrate commitment through regular class attendance, active preparation, and a strong sense of responsibility for their own learning as well as for the collective success of their group.
